

B.M.S. College of Engineering, Bengaluru-560019

Autonomous Institute Affiliated to VTU

December 2023 Supplementary Examinations

Programme: B.E.

Branch: Common to all Branches

Course Code: 21MA1HSCEN

Course: Communicative English

Semester: I

Duration: 2 hrs.

Max Marks: 50

Instructions: Questions in Unit-II and Unit-III are compulsory. Internal choice is provided in Unit-I and Unit – IV.

		UNIT - I	CO	PO	Marks
1)	What is communication? What are the purposes of Communication?	CO4	PO10	10
OR
2)	Exound on the significance of interpersonal communication.	CO4	PO10	10
		UNIT – II
	Select the right answers from the choices given:	CO1, 4	PO10	25
3)	Choose the right phonetic transcription for the following words: Cliché a) /'kli:ʃeɪ/ b) /'kli:ʃɪ/ c) /'cli:ʃeɪ/ d) /'kli:ʃai/
4)	Whistling a) /'wɪʃlɪŋ/ b) /'whɪʃlɪŋ/ c) /'wɪsɪŋ/ d) /'hɪsɪŋ/
5)	Give one-word substitution for the following expressions: An expert in writing by hand a) Chirographer b) ambidextrous c) pacifist d) bilingual
6)	A person who does not consume alcohol a) Extrovert b) Introvert c) Ambivert d) Teetotaler
7)	A person who consumes only fish a) Piscivorous b) Herbivorous c) Carnivorous d) Omnivorous
8)	Someone who loves collecting books. a. Philanthropy b. Philosopher c. Sycophant d. Bibliophile
9)	Select the correct or preferred spelling for each of these commonly misspelled words a. judgement b. judgment c. judgment d. jugdement
10)	a. tomoorow b. tomorrow c. tommorow d. tomorrow
11)	Choose the right answer by checking the correct usage of articles. Iron is _____ useful metal. a. the b. an c. a d. no article

Important Note: Completing your answers, compulsorily draw diagonal cross lines on the remaining blank pages. Revealing of identification, appeal to evaluator will be treated as malpractice.

12)	_____ student should devote his maximum time to studies. a. The      b. An      c. A      d. no article
13)	Choose the suitable prepositions from the options given: There are many flower pots _____ this garden. a. on      b. at      c. in      d. to
14)	Laptops have a chipset _____ them. a. among      b. across      c. within      d. before
15)	Choose the most suitable answer that identifies the homophones in the sentence. _____. definitely going to be her who will win the race. a. It's      b. Its      c. it      d. is
16)	_____ classroom is bigger than ours. a. There      b. Their      c. They're      d. Dare
17)	Choose the correct question tag to complete each sentence. It's a beautiful day today, _____ a. is it?      b. isn't it?      c. will it?      d. wouldn't it?
18)	We seldom meet each other these days, _____ a. do we?      b. don't we?      c. won't we?      d. didn't we?
19)	Choose the prefix or suffix from the options given to fill in the blanks: He was ____able to write the exams because of flood. a. dis      b. un      c. non      d. in
20)	The antonym of satiable is ____satisfiable. a. a      b. un      c. in      d. non
21)	The money ____change was carried out smoothly. a. re      b. un      c. ex      d. non
22)	Synonyms: Choose the word that is closest in meaning. Intractable a. Tracible      b. Intelligent      c. Unmanageable      d. Smooth
23)	Gregarious a. Fair      b. Sociable      c. Frequent      d. Balance
24)	Illicit a. Unlawful      b. Dull      c. Agreeable      d. Disbelief
25)	Antonyms: Choose the word that is opposite in meaning. Assuage a. Increase      b. Decrease      c. Give      d. Avoid
26)	Impeccable a. Faultless      b. Imperfect      c. Confident      d. Certain
27)	Pensive a. Flexible      b. admirable      c. Sufficient      d. Heedless
	UNIT – III
	Read the following excerpt and answer the questions that follow:	CO4	PO10	5
	The term misogyny refers to systems that uphold gender-based oppression against women and girls. What those systems are, and how they operate, is a subject of philosophical debate. Here we explain two prominent accounts of these systems and discuss whether misogyny can be understood independently of broader systems of oppression. According to the dehumanization theory of misogyny, misogynistic actions, behaviours, institutions, and practices are those that treat women as less than full persons. The root of misogyny is the objectification of women: instead of being treated as persons, women are treated as mere objects, in many cases, as bodies—or worth no more than their bodies—and their bodies as mere instruments for ends other than their own. The Handmaid's Tale, e.g., depicts a world in which women's social value is wholly tied to their reproductive utility. According to an alternative theory from contemporary philosopher Kate Manne, misogyny is the systemic social enforcement of patriarchy—the attitudes (i.e., anxieties, commitments) and actions that maintain or reproduce a social order of women's subordination to men. Specifically, misogyny enforces social expectations about entitlement, or lack thereof, to certain moral goods and services. Manne calls this the “moral economy of gender,” which includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• what women owe men: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ respect, love, nurturing, safety, acceptance, security;</li> <li>▪ kindness, compassion, moral attention, care, sympathy; and:</li> </ul> </li> <li>• what women cannot take from men: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ positions of leadership, authority, influence, money (forms of power, status, prestige);</li> <li>▪ pride, reputation, social standing (freedom from shame or public embarrassment).</li> </ul> </li> </ul> Misogyny primarily involves punishing “bad women”—women who fail to provide what the moral economy of gender dictates they owe or cannot take. Think of the hostility women face when they refuse to smile when catcalled on the street, or the guilt felt by women who are primary wage-earners and the related shame felt by their male partners. According to the dehumanization theory, misogyny involves treating women as less than fully human. The enforcement theory, however, understands misogyny as treating women as fully human, and as such appropriately subject to anger, hostility, and resentment when they “act badly.” Naming something ‘misogynist’ identifies it as behaviour that perpetuates women's subordination or as influenced by attitudes that do. On both theories, people who hold misogynist attitudes often love and care about individual women. In fact, someone who acts misogynistically, enforcing women's subordination, is likely to love “good women” who act in accordance with the moral economy of gender or do not resist such subordination. You can love women—or even be a woman—and be a misogynist. The dehumanization and enforcement theories both acknowledge that different people experience misogyny differently. But, both aim to articulate a singular conception of misogyny and assume that it can be understood apart from other forms of oppression.

--	---	--	--

Some object to attempts to define misogyny in this way on the grounds that it cannot be isolated from other systems of oppression: e.g., Linda Martín Alcoff writes: “Abolishing the patriarchy can’t solve gender-based discrimination or subordination because the patriarchy isn’t the root of the problem.” Patriarchy—the order enforced by misogyny—always functions alongside other forms of oppression (i.e., white supremacy, ableism, heterosexism, colonialism). Focusing on any one system independently of the others will not adequately describe the phenomenon in question. Moreover, one may think that attempts to define misogyny lead to wrongly treating the experiences of relatively privileged women (i.e., straight, white, cis, wealthy) as paradigmatic: e.g., Manne’s moral economy of gender focuses on moral rather than physical labour. She excludes women’s physical bodies and sex, childcare, housework, childbearing, and child-raising from the list of relevant goods and services. This makes central and definitional the experience of white, wealthy cis women, as much of this domestic labour is demanded of women of colour. Naming when, where, and how misogyny occurs can help us make sense of our experiences and to see how those experiences are related to those of others. This serves broader political organizing and social movements to end gender-based oppression. Whether this can or should be done by identifying a general conception of misogyny, or is better done by embracing localized analyses of oppressive conditions that include gender-based oppression, remains a matter of philosophical debate.

28. The term Misogyny refers to;

- a. Contempt against women
- b. Dedication to patriarchy
- c. Attribution to women
- d. Welfare of women

29. The contemporary philosopher illuminates that misogyny emerges due to

- a. Matrilineal system
- b. Poverty
- c. Ignorance
- d. the enforcement of patriarchy

30. The cause of misogyny arises from

- a. Oppression of women
- b. Patriarchy
- c. Sexism
- d. All of the above

31. The dehumanization theory proposes that misogyny involves treating women

- a. Equally as all humans
- b. To help them follow their dreams
- c. Inability to be the breadwinner
- d. As less than fully human.

	32. According to a theorist, eradication of the patriarchy will <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Promote equality for both men and women</li> <li>Dissuade oppression</li> <li>Deteriorate supremacy</li> <li>None of the above</li> </ol>
UNIT - IV
33.	Choose one of the following to draft a cover letter and résumé. Write a letter of application in response to the following advertisement which appeared in “The Times of India” dated 13 December 2023. Enclose your résumé along with the cover letter drafted WANTED Assistant manager for Graphic Designer (Full Time) At Invincible Labs An experienced graphic designer with 3-4 years' experience and skilled in artwork and confident creating print ready files. Experience with Photoshop, illustrator, InDesign. Other skills, software experiences, and certifications are appreciated. Apply with full particulars and emoluments expected within a week to The Manager, Invincible Labs No. 09, Brig Colony, JP road, Chennai-560029 Tamil Nadu, India. OR WANTED Digital Marketing Specialist (Full Time) Krafty Rings Experienced Digital Marketing Specialist with 1-2 years' experience in working on SEO, Google Ads, Facebook Ads, and Google Analytics. Applicant should be able to manage content creation, aware of ongoing social media trends. Skills required include social media marketing, email marketing, and Search engine Workspace and proficiency in English. (Spoken and written). Apply with full particulars and emoluments expected within a week to The Secretary, Krafty Rings No. 14, Nia Industries, Old Church Road, Kerala, 364002.	CO4	PO10
			10

*****